

BY HENRY JAMES, Esq. Post-Laureat to his Britannic Majesty.

NOW the brown woods their leafy load resign
And rage the tempests with rebellious force;
Mottled with snow the silver mountains shine.

Mark this and boast your fancied worth no more
Ye great, ye proud, ye learned, and ye brave!

Why views the sage fair pleasure's transient charms
And all her votaries gaze with following eyes?

Say, what avails it all, with brow serene
The hazy bands of luxury to despise;

Breathe with laughing nymphs in revels gay
To give the honors to Venus, wine and song;

Deluded man! whom empty sounds beguile
What joys appear here, what thy anxious soul?

Let mirth not madness crown the temperate feast
Let love and beauty joys remain impart;

The various blessings bounteous Heaven bestows
With gratitude and charity repay;

So when the wintry storms of cold air fall
In brighter climes, and ether more serene,

Ye raisals of RINGSBY, ye matchless foes
And ministers of all to me a fond repose;

YOUSonneux, fans misericoordes
Perfumeurs de genre humaine,

Ye raisals of RINGSBY, ye matchless foes
And ministers of all to me a fond repose;

WOMAN that is never spoken of, is praised the most.
Modesty is female courage.

A rich fool may be compared to an overgrown hog.
He who never entrusts a secret, keeps it the best.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.
THIRD SESSION.—PHILADELPHIA.
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, THURSDAY, December 30.

THE engrafted bill, providing for the unloading of wares & merchandise, in case of obstruction by ice, being read a third time, was passed.

Mr. Clymer presented a memorial from the College of Physicians of the city of Philadelphia, praying that high duties may be imposed on distilled spirits, in order to prevent the intemperate use of them.

On motion, it was ordered, that the Secretary of the Treasury be directed to lay before the house, a statement of the amount of the duties arising on imports and tonnage, from the first of August 1789, to the twentieth of September 1790—and as soon as may be from the last mentioned period to the end of the present year.

The house having then resolved itself into a committee of the whole on the state of the union (Mr. Readin in the chair) proceeded to the consideration of the report of the Secretary, respecting the land office, and after some time spent therein, the committee rose and reported sundry resolutions. Adjourned.

MONDAY, January 3.
A message was received from the President of the United States, accompanied with a letter, including an act of the legislature of the State of New-Jersey, relating to the United States, the lot of land called Sandy Hook.
